

Turning activity logs into account intelligence

Every call, visit and follow-up a rep logs already contains the answer to "where does this account stand" — it's just scattered across dozens of entries today, visible to no one at a glance. What follows is a hand-built preview of what surfaces once that data is read back as a whole, built from your own team's real UAT activity, not a mockup.

What the account book looks like today

Pulled directly from the UAT database on 1 September 2026 — not projected, not a demo dataset.

Five accounts, five different kinds of insight

Not cherry-picked for drama — chosen to show the range of what surfaces once activity history gets read back as a whole, rather than one entry at a time.

NUANCE, NOT JUST A HEADLINE

Ramaiah Memorial Hospital

Shruthi · 7 activities

One hospital, two truths at once: Vascular is sold — the HOD's team said they'll recommend the purchase — while Neuro ICU is stuck on a budget gap for the tier they actually want. Reading any single entry gives you one department's story, not the account's.

Demo cycle, split outcome

CATCHES WHAT REPS MISS

IQRAA Community Hospital

Haroon Sidheeq · 7 activities

A pricing dispute was logged as "cleared" on Aug 22 — then, nine days later, "need more follow up" with no resolution recorded in between. Nobody flagged the contradiction; it only becomes visible when the full history is read at once.

SAME-DAY, NOT WEEKS-LATER

G&F Medicine, Kozhikode

Haroon Sidheeq · 5 activities

Delivered today. The final rate, billing, advance collection and delivery all happened within 72 hours — and the account's status reflects "won, delivered" the same day the last entry was logged, not on the next reporting cycle.

Won — delivered

A PARAGRAPH, COMPRESSED TO A DATE

Pragathi Hospital, Puttur

Fahad · 3 activities

Three activities' worth of Rotary Club approval politics — quotation, board discussion, signature routing — reduce to one operational fact: PO expected 12 September, pending the founder's sign-off. That's the number a manager actually needs.

FLAGS WHAT'S MISSING, NOT JUST WHAT'S THERE

Sapthagiri Medical College and Hospital

Shruthi · 4 activities

Won, on paper — the PO arrived last month. But cross-referencing against the Next Actions table shows nothing is currently scheduled to chase the advance payment that's still outstanding. The gap is invisible in either table alone; it only shows up once the two are read together.

Payment gap, unscheduled
